NORTH SHORE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

National Minority Cancer Awareness Week is celebrated April 10th-16th. Cancer can affect everyone differently, but minority groups continue to be impacted the most. Some of the factors associated with these disparities include: lack of access to prevention/detection services & to high-quality treatment due to higher poverty rates & lack of health ins. The American Cancer Society is working on decreasing disparities by improving access to cancer screenings & treatment, as well as quit-smoking programs. The NS Health Dept. is very active in cancer prevention. We provide services such as referrals to the Well Woman Program, HPV vaccinations to prevent cervical cancer as well as radon test kits to promote lung cancer awareness.

The U.S. Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) is also promoting National Minority Health Month this April. The theme for 2016 is "Accelerating Health Equity for the Nation". Social Determinants of health such as age, income, or education are linked to inequalities in health among racial & ethnic minorities. The HHS is leading the nation towards achieving health equity.
